News from our partners:

South Yorkshire Police

Colleagues who have played a pivotal role in the success of a training programme focusing on child neglect have received commendations for their work.

Since September 2020, a small group of dedicated officers and staff have been involved in the training of over 4,500 officers, staff and outside partners as part of the Child Matters programme.

The programme was written and designed by DS Kath Coulter with the support of Chief Insp Emma Cheney, Dr. Jodie Hawarth-Beale and the NSPCC.

Back row - T/ACC Dan Thorpe, C/I Emma Cheney, DS Kath Coulter, DCC Forber

The team has worked tirelessly to ensure a high quality, thought provoking and interactive training day was delivered. This programme has changed the way in which South Yorkshire Police identify, record and articulate neglect, along with driving change within our partner agencies.

Some of the comments from attendees to date have included:

- Just wanted to thank you and your team for yesterday's training, I have to say that in my 20yrs service it's one of the best and most impactful training days I have attended. I discussed it with my team this morning, and all are of the same opinion, and it's clearly still a topic of conversation amongst them now as I can hear a few of them discussing it in the report write room from my office.
- Well done Kath and Ma'am(CI Emma Cheney) great course should be recognised nationally as best practice
- Best training day in 31 years, supported by 3 fantastic speakers
- Excellent training and trainers (Kath and Emma) it was really good to see senior officers on the training so they understand what the front line officers are being taught and using
- Best training I have had in years, pitched at the right level and long overdue
- Excellent training and long overdue in SYP, it is an eye opener that will give officer more confidence in dealing with neglect.
- Stark and eye opening input ensuring these considerations are at the forefront of officers mind when attending incidents.
- Amazing training we should have more partnership training to learn from each other
- This is why I joined SYP to protect children if we don't do that there is no point coming to work everyday

DCC Tim Forber presented the commendation certificates along with the force lead, T/ACC Dan Thorpe.

An extract of the commendation citation read:

The knowledge that you have shared within your delivery has protected countless children in South Yorkshire.

You have forged long lasting relationships with external partners, which has enabled them to better their knowledge in respect of child neglect, with positive feedback being received.

Your professionalism, dedication and commitment to the programme and your obvious passion and drive to deliver the very best service has been clear throughout your involvement. This has been done alongside your core role within South Yorkshire Police as well as giving much of your own time to ensure an outstanding and quality training package was delivered to all attendees.
